Description

GLX Fiber woven and non-woven fabric has good permeability, air permeability, abrasion, acid and alkali resistance, good strength, strong durability and other advantages. It can be well combined with resin to make the surface more smooth and beautiful. It is also a very good choice for reinforcing materials.
Usage of materials is very simple.
The materials are laid in the position where need to be reinforced, and then coat with resin. Once the resin has cured, the reinforcement effect is achieved.
